HALE SECURITY PET DOOR® PEAKED ROOF SECURITY BARRIER™

patent pending

Hale Security Pet Door's exciting new Peaked Roof Security Barrier™ is an excellent complement to Hale Pet Doors™ high quality pet doors.

It is designed to be installed directly in front of the pet door in your house wall, obstructing the view of the pet door as well as blocking human access. When used in conjunction with the Hale Cat Guardian™ it is also highly effective at preventing unwanted animals from entering through the pet door.

Enjoy the benefits of an electronic pet door without the hassles and technical difficulties inherent in their design. Give your dog a safe alternative – No magnets – no collars – no shock.

Red arrows represent the animal's path through the security barrier.

HOW IT WORKS

After your pet door is installed in your house wall, install any version of our security dog house in front of the pet door. The simplest version simply obstructs the view and limits human access to the pet door while the enhanced security version is available with many extra optional features for added safety, security, pet accessibility, and more. Choose any combination of the available features to make a dog house perfectly customized for your unique situation. When used with the security divider, it is virtually impossible for a human to gain access to the pet door. (see drawing to left)
